

Name, position: Janie Stoker, Corporate Communications

Hometown: I was born in Pasadena, CA but lived mostly in Kirkwood, MO and Atlanta, GA

Education: Some college (BYU)

Your family: I am the middle child of three children. I have 3 daughters and 2 sons and 3 granddaughters and 1 grandson and of course, my wonderful husband since 1980.

Family pets: We have a cute, ugly English Bulldog named Samson. He is quite a character. He reminds me of a little child in a dog costume, because of his personality.

What four people, throughout time, would you invite to a dinner party?

I should probably invite Martha Stewart so she could show me how to have a great dinner party, but you probably shouldn't make your guests do all the work. I would invite my father's mother, whom I never really got to know. It would be a treasure to know of her life and memories and wisdom she gained through her life. I would love to invite Jesus Christ, but I would prefer a private dinner party with Him. It would be interesting to have Martha Washington tell about the founding of our country from her point of view, behind the scenes with George. And to liven things up a bit, I would invite Dolly Parton. She seems to get the most out of life and have fun at the same time.

What is your greatest fear? My children making choices that would keep us from being an eternal family and bring them great unhappiness. P.S. I am also afraid of spiders and any other creepy looking insect.

What is your most admired character trait? I don't know if it's admired or not, but I have strong leadership traits. I am also very consistent with values, etc. Hopefully most people think I am a kind and thoughtful person. I try to be conscious of others and their feelings.

What destination would you like to visit? I would love to visit the various Pacific Islands, as well as the Azores. Basically, any gorgeous beach.

What keeps you going? I would say my strong sense of responsibility keeps me going and the hope for a wonderful day.

What's your most prominent memory as a child? I have many wonderful childhood memories, but one that stands out at the moment is when my best friend and I were about six years old. We gathered up some of our old, worn out toys we didn't want anymore and put them in a little red wagon. We went door to door throughout our neighborhood trying to sell them. One neighbor lady treated us like we were professional sales people with wonderful wares. She bought our whole wagon full. We were thrilled and took our earnings to the local market and bought candy.

What do you like to read? I love to read most anything. I started a book club so I get to read at least one book a month. A book I read recently, The Glass Castle, was very good.

Hobbies: I don't usually have much free time. When I do, I enjoy reading. I guess you could classify exercising as a hobby, but I probably wouldn't do it if I didn't have such a love for sweets. I love to travel anywhere with my husband. That's my favorite. I also love to spend time with my family, especially my grandbabies!
